Download and Installation of Dictionary Packages

You can download and install dictionary packages (translations) of your choice online. Jitterbits Dictionary allows the simultaneous usage of multiple translations and dictionaries. To download and install a dictionary package, select the menu Dictionary / Download Dictionary on the Jitterbits Dictionary main screen. The Download Dictionary dialog will show up.

The available dictionary packages (translations) are displayed on the upper part of the dialog. For each translation are displayed the date of that translation on the server and the date locally. Each translation has its modification status and the corresponding background color and icon.

The “yellow” translations do not exist locally. These translations are “new” to your dictionary. The “pink” translations exist locally, but have a newer version on the server. These translations are considered as “modified”. The “white” translations exist locally and don’t have a newer version on the server. These translations are considered as “unchanged”.

When you select a translation, the dictionaries comprising it are shown on the lower part of the screen. For each dictionary are displayed the number of words the dictionary can translate and the size of the dictionary file in KB.

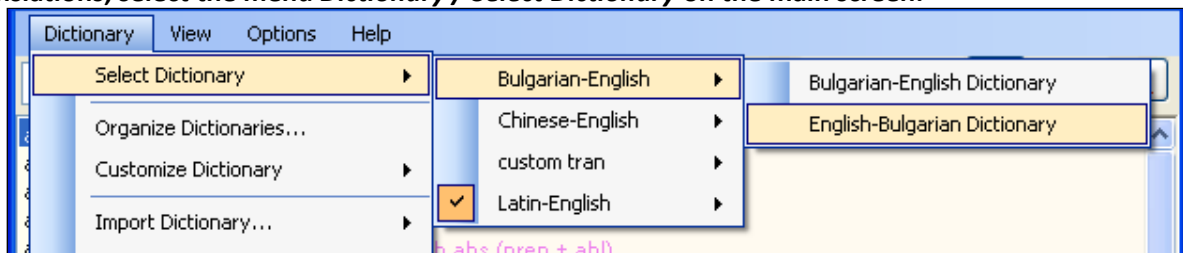

To download a translation, select it and press the button Download. A progress bar will display the progress of the download. If you decide to cancel the download in progress, press the button Cancel.

When the download completes, Jitterbits Dictionary will unpack and install the downloaded translation along with all its dictionaries. When the installation completes you will get a notification message, similar to the following one.

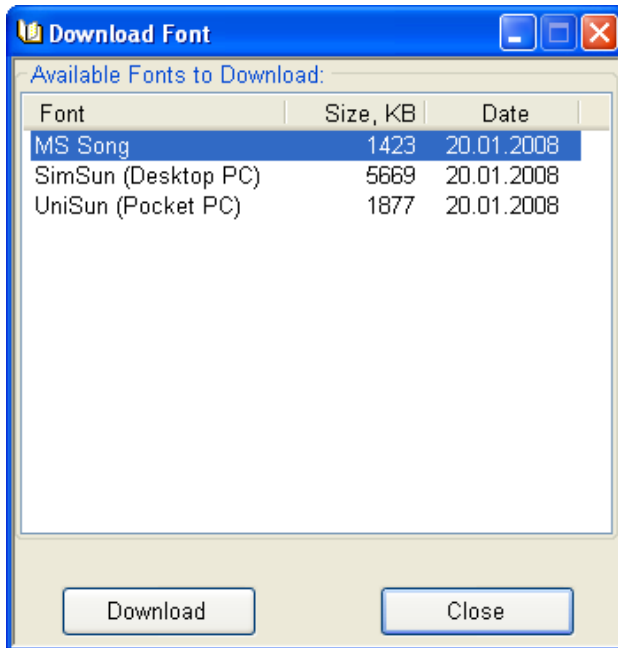

The newly installed translation will also become the current translation. To check all available translations, select the menu Dictionary / Select Dictionary on the main screen.

To download a font, select it and press the button Download. A progress bar will display the progress of the download. If you decide to cancel the download in progress, press the button Cancel.

When the download completes, Jitterbits Dictionary will unpack and install the downloaded font, and will try to set it as the default font for the Jitterbits Dictionary. When the font installation completes you will get a notification message.
